An Old Custom About to Revive.

From the Philadelphia Times.

"The fashion of wearing beauty spots and patches is coming into vogue again quite largely this season," said a fashionable ladies' hair-dresser yesterday. "At the ball of the Assembly a number of ladies wore little stars and half-moons on their faces, and at the Charity ball one lady wore a tiny coach-and-four in black court-plaster on her forhead. These patches may be purchased of almost any hair-dresser in the city. See, here is a box of one dozen different patterns." He opened a small pasteboard box and displayed twelve little pieces of black court plaster cleverly cut into various designs. A coach-and-four, a man on a bicycle, a ship in full sail, Punch and Judy and others were among the number. This fashion was reintroduced at the great ball of the French Comsulate in London last November by the Comtesse des Berangeres, one of the ladies in waiting on the exiled Empress Eugenie. It was considered so becoming that it instantly became the rage and was quickly sent over here. The final touch was put to the movement at the late hair-dressers' convention at Vienna, when patches were employed by each of the competing hair-dressers.

They Felt Him.

They Felt Him.

From the San Francisco Chronicle. When a well-known member of this community, now dead, was State Senator from this city, he was engaged in some very radical measures which sorely cut into many people whom he thought were in need of raform. They abused him very thoroughly, but in his honesty he maintained the fight strongly. A friend of his from the city visited him in Sacramento while the measures were pending.

"Well, what do they say of me in San Francisco?"

"Well, what do they say of me in San Francisco?"

"They don't speak very well of you."

"What do they say about me! That's what I want know?"

"Well, they say very rough things about you. I don't care to"—

"Speak it out. Tell me how they talk."

"They call you a liar, a scoundrel, a thief, an ignoramus, an idiot—everything they can think of that's bad."

"Ah," said the Senator, rubbing his bands in glee and chuckling in perfect enjoyment, "they feel me, my boy, they feel me!"

From the Dahlonego Sichal.

The most remarkable meteor that we have ever beard of was seen by a number of our townsmen on Monday night about 10 o'clock. From several persons who saw it we gather it presented the appearance of a round ball of fire, without a tail, about the size of a small house, moving from the Southeast to the Northwest. When it had gone nearly out of sight in the distance it was seen to explode. Some two or three minutes after it disappeared a loud rattling, rumbling noise was heard, first in the Southeast and ending in the Northwest. The sound was heard by numbers of persons besides those who saw the aerolite.

By Telegraph to the Post-Dispates.

New York, February II.—The World says; "Mr. Evarts was elected by Mr. Blaine. It was supposed that he would be the champion of Blaine's nomination in 1888. It would be curious if he should steal Blaine's thunder to promote his own nomination, instead of that of the man who put him into the Senata."

The Sin says: "Extra sessions of Congress ruin the administrations that summon them. Four have been called since General Jackson's time, and each de-knowled the Fresident that sanctioned it, with the exception of Mr. Lincoln. In his case, the measure became necessary to meet the emergency of the civil war, and therefore his administration survived. If the Democrats in the present Congress are wise, they will not leave the public business in such a condition that it will be necessary for Mr. Cleveland to call an extra session."

THE TIMES.
The Times says: "Mr. Cleveland's announce that the names of the members of his cabinet will be announced before the end of the present week, will bring timely and much needed relief to the numerous persous who have so unselfishly given up their time and talents to daily comjectures about be important work the President-elect has on and."

The Tribune says: "An excellent clause in the Indian appropriation bill, as passed by the Senate, is to set aside $50,000 to be expended by the President in relieving any sudden distress which may arise among the tribes. This should prevent a recurrence of such sufferings as the Piegans, in Montana, endured last winter, to the disgrace of Christian civilization and the American Congress."

RUSHING INTO MATRIMONY.

Some of the Curious Incidents Met With in the Recorder's Office.

Some curious coupies stroll into the Recorder's Office now and then in quest of that little slip of paper which the law demands they must have bepaper which the is well and state they must have be-fore their nearts can beat in unison as husband and wife. One would be astonished to gaze upon some of them and offer a reasonable conjecture as to how they came to fall in love with each other. But take the rounds of the courts on the day default dockets are called and your surprise will be set at rest. Their love has no substantial foundation whatever—it is a kind of fungus development which is only ephemeral in character. The honeymoon begins to wane within a week after the siken cord is ued, and the matrimonial sea becomes decidedly stornly. Of all the candidates for biss windows appear to be the most spry. They never care to tell that?" Iney ask with a little coquettash smile.

"Yes, madam, the law requires it."

"But, I am over age."

"How much?"

"Oh, you ought not to ask a widow her age!"

And sometimes despite all the deputy clerk's persistence they will not tell their exact age.

AN ANXIOUS COUPLE,

"Well, can't you give me a line or so to the janitors"

Runaway couples frequently sneak into the little from set aside for the darriage License Department and one or the other of them not being of age the license is refused them.

The refusal is always followed by a series of protestations and pouts which are truly putiful. The clerk is relentless, however, and more than one young and inpulsive lover has left the room saying, "Well, we'll get married anyhow—shang the od folks and your darred license. [00."

It is not unusual that the Recorder is posted before hand on some of these runaways. The "old man" gets wind of the elopement and goes to the Recorder in person, vites or elegraphs him not to issue a ticense to such and such a party as they are not of age. Of courset, ey come prepared to make all necessary oaths, but when confronted by the lester or telegram a little "d—n it" on one side and a pearly tear of disappointment on the other follow, and they mounfully move out. A story is told of a waggish cerk of one of the Justices of the Peace, the truth of which is not, however, vouched for. About half-past 5 one evening he was cocked back in a chair in the Justice's office, puffing away at a clay pipe and indulging in a reveried unpaid bills, when a paint in the Justice's office, puffing away at a clay pipe and indulging cou-

He took the cerk to one side and said in low tones: 'We came down from the country to-day to get married. I've got the license and you see we must get married this evening."

WINDY WEED.

He is Wanted in Chicago for a $100.000 Defalcation. From private information received from Chi t is learned that Charles F. Weed, head clerk for of that city, has left torparts unknown, carrying with him a large amount of money longing to the frm. Rumor has with him a large amount of money belonging to the frm. Rumor has it that the amount Weed get away with was $100,000, though this is probably greatly exaggerated. A gentleman, well posted in Mimme, Bodman & Co.'s affairs, said to a Post-Disparon reporter that it would not surprise him at all if Weed had got into them for a beavy amount, as the entire charge of the office, and the cash was in Weed's hands, in whom the firm had the blindest confidence. St. Louis detectives were notified of the defaucation, as it was thought the absconder would come here, and several were searching the hotels for him to-day. Charley Weed was well known in this city, where he worked for some time as book keeperwiththe Cu ver Commission Company. He left St. Louis about a year ago to accept the position with Mimime, Bodman & Co. While here he had the reputation of being rather rapid, but no douts were ever cast upon his honesty, and his accounts were perfectly straight with the Cu ver Company when he left them. He was a great talker, and known generally as "Windy Weed." He was married twice, marrying the sister of J. M. Bail, a leading grain trader of Chicago, after his first wife obtaining a divorce from him for abandonment. When Weed first came to St. Louis he entered into the grain brokerage business with a party named Ferrass, but this firm was shortlived. It is supposed that Weed has gone to the defaulter's resort—Canada. As he has the reputation of great cunning, it is believed here that he will successfully ende all pursuit.

AN EXCITING SCHE IN THE REIGHSTAG.

BERLIN, February 17.—Quite an exciting scene took place in the Re-chstag last evening during the debate on the subject of increasing the duty on cereals. While Bismarck was speaking in favor of raising the duty on wheat to three marks, he noticed a commotion among the new German liberal and socialist memoers, who occupied seats on the left of the House. Becoming indignant at the noise, he stopped for a moment, and then pointing in the direction of the offending members, said: "Mischief is your tastes." Crice arose from the left. "This is monstrous; you will then say we foretold the people would not suffer from this blood tax." A deafening turnuit ensued. It was some moments before order was restored. Italy.

Mr. Joseph Brown pres ded at last night's meeting of Democratic candidates, which was held for the purpose of determining what the candidates may do to aid the City Central Committee in the large amount of work incident to the primaries. All the candidates present agree that the money necessary to pay the expense of the primaries and conventions should be courributed by the aspirants for office, and a committee was appointed to ascertain what amount would be necessary. The committee was in session, and asked for the information. A calculation resulted in the estimate that $1,500 would probably pay all of the primary expenses, and this fact was reported back to the candidates' meeting. The meeting agreed that the money should be raised by assessments, to be graded according to the salaries of the offices aspired to, and Messrs. Chapman, Ryan. O'Brien, Clifford and Brown were appointed a committee to make out a schedule of amounts to be paid. This action was reported to the City Central Committee, which meanwhile had transacted more routine business and had determined to inau yerate a very systematic work of registration. New York, February II., -A prise fight came off early this morning on a hay barge, lying in the Wall About Basin, between two leaders of rival gangs of roughs in Brooklyn. The principals were Billy McCarty, a brick-layer, and Tom Breezy, the driver of an ice wagon. The former is 29 years old, and the latter three years younger. The fight was with brask knuckles and a round was not compisted until one of the principals was knocked down. The encouner, though short, was bloody. The man fought seven rounds, and when time was called for the eight round they made such a feeble response that the referee declared it a draw. Both were terribly punished and could hardly be recognized by their friends. They were carried from the barge to their homes.

All Wageumann, the Republican Tenth Ward manager, reports that there has been a very noticeable change among the primary workers of the Democracy of that ward since Sunday, and that, while it seemed very favorable to Runwater last Saturday, it now looks as though a Noonan delegation would be elected there.

Mr. J. J. Lane, candidate for the Lower house from the Fourth Ward, feels that an injustice has been done him in classing him among the 'veterans of the ward. The only manner in which has figured before the public was in connection with the Catholic Kuights of America, and on one or two occasions as active in the movements for the allevisation of Ireland's sufferings, and the liberation of her people. He has never asked a public orfice, and his experience thus far has not been such as to encourage him to ever aspire to one again. For instance, feeling that he would like to be represented among the judges and clerks of the primaries, he called upon the Central Committeeman of the ward with a request of that nature. The committeeman assumed the tone of a dictator, and demanded to know whom Mr. Lane would support for Mayor. Mr. Lane thought that the question was irrelevant, but the committeeman announced very forciby that no man who was not for Judge Noonan for Mayor need coine to him to ask any favors.

Capt. I. M. Mason still informs everybody who asks him concerning his reported candidacy for the Codectorsing that he is in no sense a candidate. JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., February 17.—The Committee on Criminal Jurisprudence reported back the Shields substitute for the Shields Young dramahop license bill this morning in the House and recommended that 300 copies of the bill be printed. This measure, which is very likely to pass, provides for a general House for dramahops of not less than $500, to be isvired at the discretion of or the different counties and cities, and which is afterward to be divided between the State and counties in proportion to the population of the counties or cities. For instance, in St. Louis the city would receive 30 per cent and the State 10 per cent of the license, while in cities and towns of 5,000 population the State is to receive 30 per cent of the total licenses. The bill is understood to be acceptable to the liquor men and the saloun keepers, and at the same time is said not to be objectionable to the temperance people.

CLEVELAND AMUSED.

Pennsylvania was expected by Mr. Cleveland. It had been arranged for, but it was the desire of the visitors to avoid publicity. They thought it would be best to come quietly, have a talk with Mr. Cleveland, and go away without having too much importance attached to the visit, so far as its effect on Mr. Cleveland's action might be considered. There is apparently no doubt that Senator Bayard came here to talk with Mr. Cleveland about his going into the Cabinet. Senator Bayard has been talked of for Secretary of State ever since the election, and even before the election it was said that in case Mr. Cleveland became President, Bayard would be his Secretary of State ever since the election, and even before the election it was said that in case Mr. Cleveland became President, Bayard would be his Secretary of State. It appeared to be the general opinion among the leaders of the Democracy that if he wanted the office he could have it. From what can be learned of the result of Senator Bayard's conference with Mr. Cleveland, it appears to be settled that Bayard will be the next Secretary of State. Mr. Cleveland will not admit nor deny that he offered the position to Bayard. It comes, nevertheless, from the best authority that Bayard, before he said good-bye to Mr. Cleveland, gave him to understand that he would accept the Secretaryship of State if Mr. Cleveland should insist upon its ratios The orrigonal beautiful to the senator would not have journeyed from Washington to Albany to refuse the appointment. During the past week there has been considerable goes in Albany about Mr. Manning being a member of the Cabinet. His griends have all along held that if he wanted to be one of Mr. Cleveland's secretaries his wish should be granted. It is well known that at the Syracuse Convention in 1882, when Cleveland was nominated for Governor, the Manning and County Democracy delegates went over to Cleveland was sominated for fovernor, the Manning his term as cheef executive of the State, Governor Cleveland was ably seconded by Ma

"Has Mr. Cleveland requested you to accept a Cabinet position?"

Mr. Manning answered promptly: "He has not," and Mr. Manning said this as if he meant it, and was telling, what he always does, when he says anything, the truth.

This position of Mr. Manning does not compromise him if Mr. Cleveland should insist upon his taking the Treasury secretaryship. If Mr. Cleveland were to demand Mr. Manning's acceptance of this or any other portfolio, it is very likely he would acquises; al hough he may not, as he says, be a vast re-possibility to carry out any ambition, personal or pointical. The opinion in Albany is that it by the Cabinet, and the will an editorial last night, indorsing Mr. Manning will be a member of the head of the Treasury bepartment, The Albany Journal came out with an editorial last night, indorsing Mr. Manning for a place in the Cabinet. It says:

"If, as seems altogether probable, Mr. Daniet Manning, or Abany, is called almost imperatively and displice his desinctination, to respond to a seal that he his desinctination, to respond to a seal in the Caoinet of the President of the Democratic in the Caoinet of the President deep the will be percently with which comments and faithful friend. We noge that our townshan will accept a Caumet portion."

Mr. Manning is largely responsible for the candidacy and canvass of Mr. Cleveland, it is to his credit that be has sought the office, and it is confidential and faithful friend.
